

A LANDLORD SHOT DOWN.

KILLED BY A WOMAN WHOM HE ENDEAVORED TO EVICT.

PAUL ROEHRICH, OWNER OF SOMERSET PARK, N. J., MURDERED—HIS AGENT ESCAPES DEATH BY THE WOMAN'S PISTOL MISSING FIRE.

Plainfield, N. J., Sept. 12 (Special).—Mrs. Catherine Fingerhuth shot and almost instantly killed Paul Roehrich, a New-York jeweller, whose store is at No. 2,155 Seventh-ave., this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The shooting took place at Somerset Park, North Plainfield Township, two miles from this city, where Roehrich, who was owner of the park, was trying to compel Theodore and Catherine Fingerhuth to give up possession of one of his houses, in which they had been living since his house, in which they had been living.

Mrs. Fingerhuth also attempted to kill Robert M. Clark, of No. 59 Jackson-ave., this city, who was Roehrich's manager and attorney, but the revolver missed fire.

Fingerhuth and his wife came to Somerset Park early in the spring from Long Island. Fingerhuth was engaged by Mr. Roehrich as a landscape gardener. Subsequently Fingerhuth was discharged, but continued to make his home in a little farmhouse belonging to Roehrich on the Washington Valley road at the edge of Somerset Park. The Fingerhuths were ordered to move out, but refused.

Robert Clark, Roehrich's lawyer, advised Fingerhuth's arrest for trespass, as a step to gain possession of the house. A warrant was sworn out, and when Constable Francis Bartle of Washingtonville, attempted to serve it yesterday Fingerhuth locked himself in the house, but William C. Deneca of this city, who acted as lawyer for Fingerhuth, agreed to produce his client in court this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Fingerhuth went to New-York this morning. His wife, it is alleged, told William Deneca, the storekeeper at Washingtonville, that her husband had left her well prepared, and that she was ready for Mr. Roehrich if he should appear. Early in the afternoon Mr. Clark sent his brother, Edward O. Clark, a student in the University of New-York, Harry Ryan, Clark's coachman, and William Thrus and Emil Dembski, of Washingtonville, to see if the Fingerhuths could be persuaded to depart. Mrs. Fingerhuth received them at the door. She showed a revolver, and told young Clark that if he even so much as laid a finger on the house she would shoot him. The party drove back to the superintendent's office, half a mile away, and returned with Roehrich and the elder Clark.

Mr. Clark had nearly succeeded in forcing open a door when Mrs. Fingerhuth opened it and thrust the muzzle of the revolver against the Clark's breast and pulled the trigger, but the pistol failed to explode. Clark retreated. Mrs. Fingerhuth hastened to another door, and opening that, pointed the revolver at the night, who stood about five feet from the door, and fired. Roehrich clapped his hands over his heart and exclaimed, "I'm shot." He took a few steps backward and again exclaimed, "I'm shot!" Then he fell dead.

After the shooting Mrs. Fingerhuth retired to the house, closing the doors. Her twenty-year-old son was in the house.

Some of the party guarded the house, while others went for aid. The ambulance was sent for, and Mrs. Pitts and Seglio found that Roehrich was dead. The bullet passed through the nose of the heart.

Constables Francis Bartle and George Stewart, of Washingtonville, and John Gleeson, of North Plainfield, went together to the house where the shooting occurred. Mrs. Fingerhuth offered no resistance, and admitted the officers at once. She and her son were immediately placed under arrest and taken to the borough jail, in North Plainfield. The body of Roehrich was brought to Plainfield in the afternoon.

Fingerhuth returned to Plainfield shortly after 3 o'clock, and was arrested as soon as he reached North Plainfield. He was locked up in the borough jail. There is great excitement over the shooting.

Mrs. Catherine Fingerhuth, about fifty years old, she showed no emotion when arrested, and was perfectly calm and composed when she was driven to the jail. Fingerhuth is of the same age.

Peter Roehrich, the man who was shot, appeared to be about forty-five years old. He was a garrulous, and wore a long beard and mustache.

He lived in New-York with his wife and two children. Mr. Clark went to New-York this evening to break the news to the family of the murdered man.

ROCKEFELLER'S WORK STOPPED.

JOHN WERNER THINKS THE ROAD IMPROVEMENT WOULD DAMAGE PROPERTY.

About fifty men and ten teams employed by John D. Rockefeller stopped work yesterday on the improvement of Goshen Road, when Mr. Rockefeller has been grading and graveling the road to the village of North Tarrytown.

"Carr'd," replied Chairman Oakley. "The char appoints the whole Council as delegates."

Councilman Murray offered a resolution calling upon the Board of Estimate to assess the budgets in items instead of in lump sums so that the Municipal Government may have a chance to reduce them if necessary, as they are empowered to do by the charter. Councilman McGarry said he did not think there was any good in the resolution, because the members of the Municipal Assembly would not give their time to consideration of the budget.

The resolution was referred to the Finance Committee, the object of the resolution is to give to members of the Municipal Assembly a chance to meet against the village for $500 if the work was not stopped immediately.

The Lighthouse Board is seconding Lieutenant Fremont's effort to have the improvements made in Washington regarding the smoke.

The ground taken by it is that the smoke obscures the aids to navigation erected by the Government.

COUNCIL WANTS TO USE AN AXE.

WOULD LIKE BUDGETS PASSED IN ITEMS SO THAT IT CAN PRUNE THEM.

A communication was received in the Municipal Council yesterday from the secretary of the League of American Municipalities asking that delegates to the next convention of the league at Syracuse, on September 15 to 22, be sent by the council.

"I move the appointment of a committee of twenty-nine," said Councilman McGarry.

"Carr'd," replied Chairman Oakley. "The char appoints the whole Council as delegates."

Councilman Murray offered a resolution calling upon the Board of Estimate to assess the budgets in items instead of in lump sums so that the Municipal Government may have a chance to reduce them if necessary, as they are empowered to do by the charter. Councilman McGarry said he did not think there was any good in the resolution, because the members of the Municipal Assembly would not give their time to consideration of the budget.

The resolution was referred to the Finance Committee, the object of the resolution is to give to members of the Municipal Assembly a chance to meet against the village for $500 if the work was not stopped immediately.

The Lighthouse Board is seconding Lieutenant Fremont's effort to have the improvements made in Washington regarding the smoke.

The ground taken by it is that the smoke obscures the aids to navigation erected by the Government.

A FALL IN VALUES.

SOMEWHAT EXTENSIVE LIQUIDATION IN STOCKS—SOME OF THE PRICE CHANGES.

As a consequence of the insufficient supply of and high rates for money, there was rather extensive liquidation in stocks yesterday, with an accompanying fall in values. The professional bear operators utilized the opportunity to attack stocks. A stock upon which they concentrated their efforts was Brooklyn Bond Transit. They forced it from 30c to 25c, but it recovered at the close to 27c, which made a net loss, comparing the last price with that of the day before, 25c.

There also was an assault on Sugar Refining, and it fell from 15c to 14c, but rallied to 15c, which made the net loss 1c. There were rather lively times in Tennessee Coal and Iron, which, after closing Monday at 12½c, opened at 12c, jumped up to 13c, and closed at 13c. International Paper dropped 20 points to 27c on the passing of its dividend. There were material declines in Baltimore and Ohio preferred, Northwestern Mutual, Colorado, and New-York Central. Standard Gas, Federal Street, Standard Pacific, Pennsylvania Railroad and People's Gas. The transactions in stocks were the largest on any day since last spring.

The Republican City Committee will hold a meeting tonight in the Ferguson Building to designate a committee to receive contributions for the campaign. The Republican City Club will meet on Thursday night to make preparations for the fall campaign.

MAY BE A BROAD SILK COMBINE.

MANUFACTURERS DECIDE TO GIVE THE MATTER FAVORABLE CONSIDERATION.

Paterson, N. J., Sept. 12 (Special).—The Paterson Broad Silk Manufacturers' Association met tonight in King's Hall to consider the advisability of forming a trade combination. Seven thousand looms were represented, including all the large mills in the trade, or 70 per cent of the total. The main purpose of the combination is said to be to eliminate expense and insure a uniform scale of wages thus avoiding friction between employers and employees. The meeting found the subject one of vast detail, and by a vote decided to give the matter favorable consideration.

The manufacturers took up the subject of the strike at the mill of John Hand & Son, and declared strong sympathy for the firm, whose men have been on strike for three months, and declared that if the master had been left to the employees of the firm the question of wages would have been decided immediately.

PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

A petition in voluntary bankruptcy was filed yesterday against Samuel Oliver, dealer in paints and supplies at No. 268 East One-hundred-and-twenty-eighth-st., by four creditors whose claims aggregate $3,04.

TRANSLANTIC TRAVELLERS.

Two ocean liners—the Kensington, of the Red Star Line, from Antwerp, and the Anchors, of the Anchor Line, from Glasgow—arrived at their piers here yesterday. The passengers on each told of rough weather and fog which they had experienced during the voyage, the one making many of them ill and the other causing apprehensions of relapses and collisions.

On board the latter, which arrived at the Bar Monday night, but was detained until yesterday morning by fog, were 290 cabin passengers and 92 in the steerage. Among those in the cabin were Miss Isa E. Brown, Miss B. Bruce, Edie Bull and family, J. W. Houston, Miss Helen Knight, Miss S. M. Orr, Miss Annie Pun and Miss H. M. Peterson.

The Kensington brought among her passengers Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Armstrong, Professor B. L. Bowen, Professor William A. Finch, Miss Marie Jacob, Egbert the Rev. J. C. S. Johnson, Mrs. L. E. Wade, Miss Mary L. Walker, Miss Grace D. Wright and Edwin S. Tracy. In all there were 213 cabin passengers and 89 in the steerage.

The three transatlantic liners which will sail from here to-day will carry a comparatively small number of cabin passengers. Among these the American Line steamship New-York for Southampton will be charles De S. Batchelor, J. T.

Francis McFarlan, of No. 149 Broadway, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $1,531 and no assets.

Solomon Leederer and Mayer Blckart, of No. 237 Forty-ninth-st., who were formerly in the Ivory business as S. Leederer & Co., have filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $15,562. Mr. Blckart has individual debts of $3,762 also, and there are no assets.

SUPPLY CO. EXAMINATIONS.

The examination of the Republicans for places as deputy superintendents of elections was begun yesterday morning by the State Superintendent of Elections, John McHugh, in his office, No. 585 Broadway. The applicants from New-York County were examined yesterday, and unless the attachments were satisfied he would probably sell the fixtures for more than a month. Mr. Rosenthal has been examined to-morrow.

The three transatlantic liners which will sail from here to-day will carry a comparatively small number of cabin passengers. Among these the American Line steamship New-York for Southampton will be charles De S. Batchelor, J. T.

Francis McFarlan, of No. 149 Broadway, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $1,531 and no assets.

Solomon Leederer and Mayer Blckart, of No. 237 Forty-ninth-st., who were formerly in the Ivory business as S. Leederer & Co., have filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $15,562. Mr. Blckart has individual debts of $3,762 also, and there are no assets.

SUPPLY CO. EXAMINATIONS.

The examination of the Republicans for places as deputy superintendents of elections was begun yesterday morning by the State Superintendent of Elections, John McHugh, in his office, No. 585 Broadway. The applicants from New-York County were examined yesterday, and unless the attachments were satisfied he would probably sell the fixtures for more than a month. Mr. Rosenthal has been examined to-morrow.

The three transatlantic liners which will sail from here to-day will carry a comparatively small number of cabin passengers. Among these the American Line steamship New-York for Southampton will be charles De S. Batchelor, J. T.

Francis McFarlan, of No. 149 Broadway, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $1,531 and no assets.

Solomon Leederer and Mayer Blckart, of No. 237 Forty-ninth-st., who were formerly in the Ivory business as S. Leederer & Co., have filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $15,562. Mr. Blckart has individual debts of $3,762 also, and there are no assets.

SUPPLY CO. EXAMINATIONS.

The examination of the Republicans for places as deputy superintendents of elections was begun yesterday morning by the State Superintendent of Elections, John McHugh, in his office, No. 585 Broadway. The applicants from New-York County were examined yesterday, and unless the attachments were satisfied he would probably sell the fixtures for more than a month. Mr. Rosenthal has been examined to-morrow.

The three transatlantic liners which will sail from here to-day will carry a comparatively small number of cabin passengers. Among these the American Line steamship New-York for Southampton will be charles De S. Batchelor, J. T.

Francis McFarlan, of No. 149 Broadway, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $1,531 and no assets.

Solomon Leederer and Mayer Blckart, of No. 237 Forty-ninth-st., who were formerly in the Ivory business as S. Leederer & Co., have filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $15,562. Mr. Blckart has individual debts of $3,762 also, and there are no assets.

SUPPLY CO. EXAMINATIONS.

The examination of the Republicans for places as deputy superintendents of elections was begun yesterday morning by the State Superintendent of Elections, John McHugh, in his office, No. 585 Broadway. The applicants from New-York County were examined yesterday, and unless the attachments were satisfied he would probably sell the fixtures for more than a month. Mr. Rosenthal has been examined to-morrow.

The three transatlantic liners which will sail from here to-day will carry a comparatively small number of cabin passengers. Among these the American Line steamship New-York for Southampton will be charles De S. Batchelor, J. T.

Francis McFarlan, of No. 149 Broadway, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $1,531 and no assets.

Solomon Leederer and Mayer Blckart, of No. 237 Forty-ninth-st., who were formerly in the Ivory business as S. Leederer & Co., have filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $15,562. Mr. Blckart has individual debts of $3,762 also, and there are no assets.

SUPPLY CO. EXAMINATIONS.

The examination of the Republicans for places as deputy superintendents of elections was begun yesterday morning by the State Superintendent of Elections, John McHugh, in his office, No. 585 Broadway. The applicants from New-York County were examined yesterday, and unless the attachments were satisfied he would probably sell the fixtures for more than a month. Mr. Rosenthal has been examined to-morrow.

The three transatlantic liners which will sail from here to-day will carry a comparatively small number of cabin passengers. Among these the American Line steamship New-York for Southampton will be charles De S. Batchelor, J. T.

Francis McFarlan, of No. 149 Broadway, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $1,531 and no assets.

Solomon Leederer and Mayer Blckart, of No. 237 Forty-ninth-st., who were formerly in the Ivory business as S. Leederer & Co., have filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $15,562. Mr. Blckart has individual debts of $3,762 also, and there are no assets.

SUPPLY CO. EXAMINATIONS.

The examination of the Republicans for places as deputy superintendents of elections was begun yesterday morning by the State Superintendent of Elections, John McHugh, in his office, No. 585 Broadway. The applicants from New-York County were examined yesterday, and unless the attachments were satisfied he would probably sell the fixtures for more than a month. Mr. Rosenthal has been examined to-morrow.

The three transatlantic liners which will sail from here to-day will carry a comparatively small number of cabin passengers. Among these the American Line steamship New-York for Southampton will be charles De S. Batchelor, J. T.

Francis McFarlan, of No. 149 Broadway, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $1,531 and no assets.

Solomon Leederer and Mayer Blckart, of No. 237 Forty-ninth-st., who were formerly in the Ivory business as S. Leederer & Co., have filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $15,562. Mr. Blckart has individual debts of $3,762 also, and there are no assets.

SUPPLY CO. EXAMINATIONS.

The examination of the Republicans for places as deputy superintendents of elections was begun yesterday morning by the State Superintendent of Elections, John McHugh, in his office, No. 585 Broadway. The applicants from New-York County were examined yesterday, and unless the attachments were satisfied he would probably sell the fixtures for more than a month. Mr. Rosenthal has been examined to-morrow.

The three transatlantic liners which will sail from here to-day will carry a comparatively small number of cabin passengers. Among these the American Line steamship New-York for Southampton will be charles De S. Batchelor, J. T.

Francis McFarlan, of No. 149 Broadway, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $1,531 and no assets.

Solomon Leederer and Mayer Blckart, of No. 237 Forty-ninth-st., who were formerly in the Ivory business as S. Leederer & Co., have filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $15,562. Mr. Blckart has individual debts of $3,762 also, and there are no assets.

SUPPLY CO. EXAMINATIONS.

The examination of the Republicans for places as deputy superintendents of elections was begun yesterday morning by the State Superintendent of Elections, John McHugh, in his office, No. 585 Broadway. The applicants from New-York County were examined yesterday, and unless the attachments were satisfied he would probably sell the fixtures for more than a month. Mr. Rosenthal has been examined to-morrow.

The three transatlantic liners which will sail from here to-day will carry a comparatively small number of cabin passengers. Among these the American Line